

CEREMONIES

St John's has been conducting the Eucharist and holding baptisms, weddings and funerals since 1839.

The church's registers, which record details of these ceremonies, are housed in the Mortlock Library in the State Library of South Australia. Being such an old church, St John's understands that families have longstanding links with the church forged over several generations. Therefore everyone is welcome to participate in all St John's ceremonies.

St John's reputation is one of paying a great deal of attention to detail and accommodating particular preferences.
